NUMBER 28

Says WILL ROGERS

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal.—Well, all I know is just what I read in the papers and what I run into as I prowl hither and thither. You know I have often said in answer to inquiries as to how I got away with kidding some of our public men, that it was because I liked all of them personally, and that if there was no malice in your heart, there could be none in your "gaze," and I have always said I never met a man I didn't like.

Even out in Chicago last week, why there are just an awful lot of fine things about the old town besides bullet holes. It's one of the most progressive cities in the world. Shooting is only a side line. It's a great place. You only have to meet it to know it good. Well, that's the way it is with humans; you read a lot of other people and kinder form a certain opinion.

Now there has been a whole lot in the papers lately about the much-disussed prize fight between Jack Sharkey and this young fellow Schmeling, and the sport writers have had a carnival for a year or so writing about the "Baby-Gob" and a million-and-one titles that denoted that he was nothing but a big breeze. Well, I was up in Boston a week or so ago and through a mutual friend I happened to meet this fellow Sharkey. Had a long chat with him and he drove me out to his home and met his wife and three great kids. I had always kinder admired him—spite of what was said, for he had always had the reputation of being a very clean living family man and well liked by his neighbors. Now when your neighbors don't get wise to you you must be pretty straight laced.

Well, he told me a lot about the fight, and he told it in a very straightforward way. He didn't have any crying-to-do—or any tears. He says he knows that he hit the fellow right on the shelf, but he don't think it was below low. He said he never seemed like he was having an easier fight. He said he had trained hard and expected much more opposition out of the fellow, and when this thing come and was standing over in the corner with his hands on the ropes just waiting for them to declare him the winner when he held up the other fellow's hand here are his words, "Well, my chin dropped and it hit me on the chest (low down on the chest), and it almost

I said Daniel Webster wrote the dictionary. Well, these Harvardites have been calling me up before daylight telling me it was Noah Webster and not Daniel. How was I to know? I never read the book. I never could get interested in the thing.

Well, anyhow, the mistake will only be noticed in Boston.

(1930, McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

knocked me out. My heart went down and down out of one leg then hopped across into the other and come up ways and stopped dead. Here I was with the Championship in my lap and blowed it again."

Well, it was really pathetic to hear the fellow explain it.

He has a lovely home out in the fashionable section of Boston. It's built and furnished all in good taste. (That is as far as I am able to judge).

Round June 22, 1930, here is what will be headlined in the planet Mars morning paper:

"A young man from a place called Earth flew in here yesterday. He had been in the air continuously for two months. He had some letters of introduction from the Chamber of Commerce in a place called Englewood, New Jersey. He asked to have his ship refueled as he is taking off for Venus in the morning."

What can we do for this Bobby Jones that keeps monotonously winning all these golf championships? I would propose him for President—but I haven't got it in for him that bad. On the golf course it's just your opponents that are shooting at you, but it looks like in the White House your friends are the ones you got to watch.

Just been to see Charles Dawes, right from London with an accent longer than his pipe handle. He is a real guy, this Dawes. He can make good at anything. They want to use him in the Chicago racketeering warfare. Both sides are making him offers.

That sweeping victory of Dwight Morrow is going to give many a wat-candidate false encouragement. He was running on something, besides a platform. He could have run as a Bolshevik and won.

The only thing will keep other States from following New Jersey's example will be there just isn't any more Morrows.

NURSES GRAD. FROM TRAINING SCHOOL

Miss Beth Deming and Miss Violet Williams have completed their courses in Mercy Hospital Nurses Training school and on Thursday night of last week received their diplomas that certify their graduation and that give them the authority to serve in the nurses profession.

It's a well earned honor that these young ladies received and one that each has worked and studied earnestly for during the past three years.

The training course they received is one of the most thorough that it is possible for a young lady to have.

Under instruction of the Sisters who are graduate nurses with long years of experience, and Doctors Keyport and Clippert, whose skill as physicians and surgeons is generally acknowledged, these young ladies have received their training. They come from good homes and, with their school education and natural aptitude for their chosen profession, there is reason why they shouldn't become the highest type of nurses. Their instructors have done their parts and now it is for them to prove that they are capable to stand upon their own resources. Those who have observed them in their daily duties have only good things to say for them.

The stage of the auditorium presented a pretty appearance, representing a summer garden with its lattice and profusion of flowers. The class motto was "Virtue is the best prize," and the young ladies chose the pink rose for their flower.

A splendid program was presented upon the occasion of graduation. It was held in the school auditorium.

After the program there was a brief reception followed by dancing in the school gymnasium.

1—Mai Charles Kingsford-Smith and his companions who flew in the plane Southern Cross from Port Marnock, Ireland, to Harbor Grace, Newfoundland, and thence to New York. 2—Sea Scout Paul Stipe telling his story in Washington about his adventures with the Byrd expedition to the Antarctic. 3—Silver peak of the Chrysler building in New York, just cleared of its sheath of scaffolding.

presented the graduates with their diplomas.

During the program selections were played by Clark's orchestra. There was a vocal duet by Mrs. Jarmin and Mrs. Milnes and a vocal quartette by Mrs. Milnes, Mrs. Jarmin, Mrs. Gothro and Miss Hermann.

After the program there was a brief reception followed by dancing in the school gymnasium.

POPULAR GRAYLING LADY MARRIES ANN ARBOR MAN

Wednesday morning, June 18th, the St. Thomas Church in Ann Arbor was the scene of the marriage of Miss Evelyn Lovelly, daughter of David Lovelly of this city, and Richard Kearns, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kearns of Ann Arbor. Fr. Allen J. Babcock of Ann Arbor performed the ceremony.

Miss Lovelly was charming in a gown of pale orchid chiffon trimmed with orchid lace. She wore a hair hat of orchid to match and wore a corsage of white roses. Miss Kathryn Kearns, a sister of the groom, was the bridemaid and was lovely in a gown of pink chiffon with a matching hair hat. She wore a corsage of pink roses. Mr. Kearns was assisted by Mr. Ambrose Nannery of Ann Arbor. Only immediate friends and relatives attended the wedding.

At eleven o'clock a three course wedding breakfast was served to thirty guests at the home of the grooms' parents.

Mrs. Kearns will be employed at the Cooley Gift Shop for the summer. Mr. Kearns holds a responsible position as line foreman for the Michigan Bell Telephone Company and is at present employed in Bay City.

Mrs. Kearns is one of Grayling's most popular young ladies and has a large circle of friends who wish her every happiness.

Mrs. Jetta Fisher of Grayling attended the wedding.

In spite of his efforts to stop her, Tom Mix's daughter eloped the other day and was married. What happened to Tom's trusty horse and lasso?

At the close of Rev. Dunigan's talk Miss Deming and Miss Williams recited the Florence Nightingale Pledge, giving their lives in behalf of suffering humanity. Dr. Keyport

JULY 4TH THE NEW RIALTO TO OPEN SOON

This having been the chief topic of conversation in and about town for some little time now it seems timely to at least say "It won't be long now."

Nothing is being left undone that will contribute to the pleasure and comfort of the patrons of the new Rialto.

There will be the very latest type of the Super-Simplex Projectors—an effect machine that will thrill your heart and in keeping with the Rialto policy to always give you the newest attractions in the motion picture world, there is being installed the new Magnascreen. The Magnascreen is the latest development in the motion picture industry today.

The ventilation is of the washed air type to insure plenty of fresh air and comfort that the warm weather. The presentation policy will consist of four complete changes of program each week. There will be lodges for those who prefer a little privacy and the opening night a special invitation is extended to those present to inspect the projection booth and its equipment.

The Avalanche feels sure that anyone not present at the opening of this beautiful palace of the Talking Cinema will regret it most profoundly, for remember there will be plenty of pleasant surprises in store for you.

We are told that all of the usual opening night events that are generally confined to theaters in the larger cities will be present. So if you stay home don't send us any sob stories.

The opening date and attractions will be announced in next week's paper.

SAMUEL HUSTON MOORE

Samuel Huston Moore, passed away suddenly at the home of his son Edward Moore last Thursday afternoon at the ripe old age of seventy-seven.

He was born in Wabash, Indiana on December 1, 1852 and spent his younger days in that state. He came to Michigan about forty years ago and settled in McBride. Mrs. Moore died seven years ago and since that time he has made his home with his sons and daughters.

On April 24th he came to Grayling to visit his son Edward Moore and family.

The remains were taken to McBride Friday morning for burial, funeral services being held on Sunday afternoon. He is survived by four daughters, Mrs. Mary Ezelton of McBride; Mrs. Olive Vincent of Marion; Mrs. Susie Road of Stanton and Mrs. Ina Courtright of Grand Rapids; four sons, Dan of Six Lakes, Edward of Grayling, William of Edmore, John of Almen and Arthur of Grand Rapids. He is also survived by twenty-seven grandchildren, also by four brothers and three sisters.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Thompson and son of Grayling attended the funeral.

Carl W. Peterson, Treasurer.

REPLIES TO WHO'S WHO IN GRAYLING

(By Clara L. Atkinson)

Good morning, Mr. Editor:

As I left home this morning, I was thinking about "Who's Who in Grayling."

As I stopped in Alfred Hanson's he greeted me with a smile. I asked him how long he had been in business. He told me 4 years 10 months and 26 days. He also told me he sold and recommended the Goodyear tire and sold the Willard battery. I thanked him and started on my way to the next place which was the Grayling Bakery. There I was greeted with a smile. I asked how long Mr. Craig had owned the bakery. The answer was 2½ years. They also told me that Mr. Craig had supplied the Ford plant in Detroit with bread for 4 years and he can turn out 8,000 loaves of bread daily in Grayling.

As I journeyed on my way to the jewelry store at the Grayling Bank. There I met Mr. Marius Hanson, who told me in a very pleasant way that the Grayling Bank had been established for 29 years. He also told me he had been a resident of Grayling 30 years. His assistant cashier is his brother, Holger Hanson.

As I came from the bank, I started down the street and stepped in the jewelry store. There I met Carl W. Peterson. I asked him how long he had been in the jewelry business in Grayling. He smiled and said, 9 years. He also told me he recommended the Gruen watch for ladies and the Elgin watch for men.

From there I started on my way to Burke's Garage. As I walked in Mr. Burke looked up and smiled and said, "What can I do for you?" I smiled and asked him the price of a Ford coupe. He looked surprised and answered me, "$561.00 F. O. B. Grayling." He also told me he has been Ford dealer here in Grayling for 17 years and that he recommended the Fisk tire.

From there I started to the Grayling Box Company. There I met the bookkeeper who told me the company has been established 12 years and Mr. Peterson has been manager 8 years.

Among the visiting players taking part in the tournament were: Charles DeWaele, W. Clarence Smith, Cliff Durant, Mr. Doty, Mr. Pontius, Mr. Vincent, Bruce Radcliffe, Mr. Weiter, Stanley Breugh.

Vary the tartness of your French dressing occasionally by using in place of plain vinegar, lemon or grapefruit juice, or tarragon vinegar, or spiced vinegar from pickles.

For success in home canning of string beans, corn, peas—in fact all vegetables except tomatoes—the canner should provide the high-temperature of the steam pressure canner. Troublesome bacteria are likely to lurk in these nonacid vegetables, and unless killed by adequate processing, they will cause the canned foods to spoil. The U. S. Department of Agriculture, with its nation-wide view of the home canning question, strongly recommends the steam pressure method for all nonacid vegetables. Time tables are sent free on request from Washington.

GRAYLING WINS GOLF TOURAMENT

A good time was had at the golf tournament last Sunday when members of Roscommon club played a return match with Grayling. Grayling carried away the honors of the day but the visitors forced our players to shoot hard and carefully, and some good scores were turned in on both sides.

The scores for the Grayling players were as follow:

E. J. Olson 49-46

Emerson Brown 45-44

Holger Hanson 50-48

Carl Johnson 46-46

George Olson 51-55

M. Hanson 49-48

Dr. Clipper 46-48

Southern Cross Makes Westward Flight Across the Atlantic Ocean.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

ONCE again the Atlantic has been conquered by aviators, and this time it was the westward passage made successfully but once before, that was negotiated. Maj. Charles Kingsford-Smith of Australia and three companions flew the famous plane Southern Cross from Port Marnock, Ireland, near Dublin, and made a safe landing at Harbor Grace, Newfoundland. Their intended destination was New York, but when they neared the Newfoundland coast they ran into dense fog and for six hours flew blind, losing their course and wandering aimlessly. Meanwhile their pilot was running low and their predicament seemed serious. However, their radio was efficient and the operator, John W. Stannage, kept in constant communication with ships and shore stations. A relief plane was about to take off from Harbor Grace when the Southern Cross came in out of the fog and dropped gracefully to earth.

While Kingsford-Smith, Stannage and their companions, Evert Van Dyk and Capt. J. Patrick Saul, rested after the two thousand mile flight the plane was refueled, and next morning at daylight the trip to New York was resumed. Major Kingsford-Smith said they would fly later to San Francisco, completing a round the world flight for him and the plane.

New York city gave the gallant aviators its customary reception with bugle, parades, firecrackers and salutes. The pilot brought across a letter from President Cosgrave of the Irish Free State to President Hoover, which he planned to deliver in person at the White House.

The directors and executives of the National Air Races sent Major Kingsford-Smith a telegram of warm congratulation and invited him to remain over in Chicago or to return from the Pacific coast to be their guest during the races, which begin August 28.

COL. ROBERTO FIERI, now Mexico's air hero, made a non-stop flight from New York to Mexico City in 16 hours and 25 minutes, a new record, and ten hours less than the time taken by Colonel Lindbergh for the trip from Washington to Mexico City last December.

YEAT another most auspicious event in aviation circles, to speak was the birth of a fine son to Colonel and Mrs. Lindbergh at Englewood, N. J. The glad news was given all the world immediately by newspaper bulletins and radio broadcasts; and congratulatory messages poured in on the happy parents. The colonel was characteristically reticent, but Ambassador Morrow proclaimed himself the happiest grandfather in the world. In filling out the birth certificate, Mrs. Lindbergh designated herself as a professional flier and gave her home as St. Louis, Mo.

Rear Admiral Byrd and Colonel Lindbergh met in a New York hotel and exchanged congratulations. Byrd mentioned the birth of Lindbergh's son and the colonel's high altitude coast to coast flight. Lindbergh spoke glowingly of the aerial trip to the South pole. He left his congratulations for Bertie Balchen, the pilot of Byrd's plane on its polar dash.

PRESIDENT HOOVER last week was compelled by his honest convictions to veto another pension bill, and this time the veto was upheld by the house of representatives. The measure was the World war veterans bill originating in the house and passed by the senate despite Mr. Hoover's warning that he would not approve it. Only six senators voted against the bill, while the president said was "bad legislation," against the best interests of the veterans themselves and placing "an unjustified load upon the taxpayers at a time every effort should be made to lighten it."

As soon as the senate had voted, the Republicans of the house held a caucus and enough votes were pledged to sustain the veto. To facilitate action the house accepted the senate amendments and the measure was sent to Mr. Hoover. Then, immediately after his veto message was received, the vote sustaining it was taken. A substitute bill was then rushed through the house, with the prospect of definite action on it by the senate within a few days. The new measure embodies the pension system. Its initial annual cost to the government will be $300,000, which will increase to $300,000,000 in three years. It will apply to probably 200,000 veterans (in addition to 245,000 now receiving compensation) whose pensions will range from $12 to $40 a month, depending upon the degree of disability. The revised bill, according to Director

Hines of the veterans' bureau, would have cost $102,000,000 the first year and ultimately would have added $25,000,000 annually to the present expenditures for veterans.

BY A vote of 10 to 4 the senate foreign relations committee reported the London naval treaty to the senate for approval. Neither Chairman Borah nor the warmest advocates of the pact on the committee submitted any written report explaining and commanding it. The four who refused to recommend its ratification were Johnson of California, Moses of New Hampshire, Robinson of Indiana and stipendiary of Minnesota.

President Hoover remained steadfast in his intention of calling an immediate special session of the senate to act on the treaty, although twenty-four senators signed a round robin petition asking him to abandon this plan and allow consideration of the pact to be postponed until after the November elections. The protesting senators declared they were worn out with their public duties, the senate having been in almost continuous session since December, 1928, and that many of them had been compelled to neglect their private affairs.

Administration leaders are confident the treaty will be ratified eventually, but admit the controversy will be long and bitter. The opposition has prepared proposed resolutions which would include the following declarations:

That the treaty involves no permanent surrender of the previously claimed right of the United States to build as it pleases.

That under the so-called "escape clause" America can build whatever type of ship it desires in the event of England or Japan building beyond the treaty limits because of the construction programs of nations not signatory to the pact.

That under the replacement clauses Great Britain can replace her 6-inch gun cruisers with ships of that category.

PRESIDENT HOOVER'S vacation tour plans for which already include visits to some of the national parks in the West, may also take him down to Mexico in August. Both the Mexican government and Ambassador Morrow have invited him, and after a conference in the White House Mr. Morrow said:

"I strongly urged President Hoover to visit Mexico while I am there, and I believe that he will do so. He plans to make a trip during August which will bring him to the Mexican border, and I believe that it would go long way to cement our good relations if he would visit that country. I know that he wishes to do so and has only postponed his visit because of the press of business."

That under the replacement clauses Great Britain can replace her 6-inch gun cruisers with ships of that category.

MR. AND MRS. CLARE SMITH and daughter Betty Jane and Mrs. Gladys Mestella and son Jack of Lansing are visiting Mr. and Mrs. James McNeven and family. Mr. Smith will be with the National Guards at the camp for two weeks.

Angus Macaulay of Standish visited the home of James Cameron over the week end. Mrs. Macaulay and three children who had been spending the past couple of weeks with her parents, returned to Standish with him on Sunday.

Mrs. Jessie Greene of Roscommon entertained Miss Marian Reynolds at a miscellaneous shower Monday evening in honor of Mrs. Don Reynolds (Viola Kennedy) a recent bride.

The party was held at the home of Mrs. Greene in Roscommon. The evening was spent playing cards, after which the bride was presented with many useful gifts. Lunch was served late in the evening.

Sheriff Amidon and wife are enjoying a visit from their mother, Mrs. A. J. Amidon, of New Lathrop, Mr. M. P. Rourke and wife of Owosso.

Mr. George A. Miller and Miss Clara O'Neil of Frederic were united in marriage at the office of Justice Hon. C. T. Grawn of Mt. Pleasant Neiderer, Tuesday, July 2nd.

John Cowell who has been a postman here for nearly 30 years will day evening at the home of Mrs. start for California next Monday to Julia A. Ingalls, Frederic, when her daughter Lotta was united in marriage to Milton Granger of Oxford.

Miss Mary Pihl of Hawaii is expected here today from Cheyenne for another visit with her friend, Miss Alexander.

Master Nelson Hartwick of Jackson is visiting in the village, having come especially to care for grandpa Michelson during the celebration.

Our people are alive for today. The streets are decorated for the big crowd expected, which can only be kept away by bad weather and Conner has promised that it shall be fine.

Fred Stevens arrived home from Chicago last Saturday for a week of visiting and fishing. He is looking fine and fat and welcome as ever.

Archie McKay and wife were in town last week, called by the death of Fred Hoesli, their brother-in-law.

We are glad to know of Archie's business success and hope it may continue.

Prof. Bradley had the misfortune of perforating one of his feet with a rusty nail at the camp on the Manistee, where he was fishing with R. W. Brink last week.

The Bay City Tribune states that the Michigan Central having acquired the Ward road, will build a spur from the home of our banker, Mr. Axel Becker, a point near Deward to Grayling. The last Sunday morning, He said the branch will pass through a large assistant cashier. Axel smiles, and block of timber owned by Salling assistant smokes.

MANY CHANGES IN PRIMARY ELECTION LAW

The General Primary Election, September 9th, 1930, nominates candidates for Governor, Lieutenant Governor, United States Senator, Congressman, State Senator, Representative in State Legislature and all County Officers elected at the November Election and candidates to fill vacancies when vacancy occurs. Also Delegates to County Convention.

Registration—Residence means where person sleeps and has lodgings.

Clerk must sit 20th day before election, etc.

Clerk must publish Notice of Registration at least twice in newspaper circulated in said Township or City.

County Clerk must give Election first time not less than ten days prior to last day of Registration. Printed of County Clerk on a designated day notices when posted must be in at and shall instruct and demonstrate least two of the most conspicuous in the manner in which their duties are placed in each precinct, first posting to be performed. The Inspectors to not less than ten days prior to last receive compensation from their townships for attending such meeting at same rate they receive for performing their duties on election day.

County Convention for election of Delegates to State Convention in even numbered years held within nine days of Registration. See Act 306, page 708, Public Acts 1929.

Registration Books—New Registration Books must be of the form provided in Sec. 2, chap. 11, page 529, Delegates to State Convention in even numbered years held within nine days of Registration. See Act 306, page 708, Public Acts 1929.

Polls kept open until six o'clock p.m. instead of five p.m., etc.

Every elector in line at hour of closing shall be allowed to vote. Act binds in horror at the American rate of making money, but they don't.

New kind of Ballot Box required seem to refuse any of it when our All Ballot Boxes must hereafter be tourists take it over there.

WELL ORDERED VACATION A GOOD TYPE OF HEALTH INSURANCE

(By S. W. STRAUS, President American Society for Thrift.)

A well-ordered vacation is by no means a waste of time. It is a good example of thrift. For it is just as thrifty to conserve one's health and energies as it is to save and conserve one's material resources.

These thoughts are appropriate at this time as the summer vacation period is now at hand. There is a very close connection between the vacation problem and the health problem because in the final analysis a vacation has become to be considered a necessity in these days of strenuous activity.

Recently there was completed a remarkable survey of health conditions in the City of New York. The health facts discovered there may, with more or less accuracy, be recorded as typical of the entire country and are, therefore, of general public value.

Here are some of the facts regarding health conditions in the nation's largest city: From 125,000 to 200,000 persons are continually sick in bed and from 250,000 to 800,000 more are constantly ill, of the 30,000 deaths per year, a very large percentage are from sickness that might have been prevented or postponed; the total annual outlay for the care of disease is $150,000,000; the annual loss in wages due to illness is $75,000,000, amount spent annually in the prevention of ill-health, $8,500,000.

We hear much about losses incurred by the public through fraudulent or unsound investments. Needless and preventable losses of time and money through ill-health constitute an even heavier economic drain on the country.

Health thrift is more important than money thrift because without money we still can work and win, but without health we are helpless and advancement is practically impossible.

Fortunately, more thought constantly is being given to thrift of health. It was recently announced that the Rockefeller Foundation last year spent more than $21,000,000 in practical and experimental medical work while within recent years it has spent $144,000,000 for the same noble purpose.

Vacations are taken for the purpose of conserving one's health. When they are so planned and carried out as to be helpful along these lines, they are "no means a waste of time—they are, quite to the contrary, a good example of thrift."

NO MORE "GERMAN BROWN TROUT" NOR WALL EYED PIKE

The name "German Brown Trout" is a misnomer and in the future this species of fish will be known officially as "Brown Trout."

The name "German Brown" as applied to the fish is "inappropriate," according to the Institute or Fisheries Research of the Department of Conservation.

It was first applied probably because the veteran fish culturist Von Behr was instrumental in introducing this species from Germany to America. It has also been called Von-Behr's trout" says a bulletin from the Institute.

The species is common in suitable waters over most of Europe," the bulletin continues, "and the name "German Brown" is inappropriate. The commonest form in Europe is called "brook trout" but that name of course, is out of the question for us, because we use it for the type of fish called char or salmon in Europe."

In the future all mention of this species in laws, correspondence, bulletins, etc., will be as of "brown trout" and the public is being urged to adopt that name.

The name "wall eyed pike" is no longer in use in official communications and in laws relating to this species in Michigan.

This species is now known officially as Pike-Perch. Pike-Perch are known and shipped as "yellow pickerel" and as "yellow" among the commercial fishermen of the state. The same fish is known as a "dore" or "dory" in Canada.

THE TRAPPING OF TURTLES FORBIDDEN

While there is no law or regulation in this state protecting turtles, the use of traps that might injure fish life is forbidden, according to the Division of Fisheries of the Department of Conservation.

Turtles may be killed in any manner, in any numbers at any time of the year, with the exception of that one method of capture, it was said.

The Division has received several inquiries relative to the edibility of the various kinds of turtles found in Michigan, the habits of these turtles and as to the market for them.

The soft shelled turtle and the snapper are the best known forms of edible turtles found in this state.

"The soft shelled turtle is highly esteemed as food, and is easily taken in traps," according to the Fish Division.

The common snapping turtle is also used as food although only the smaller specimens are desired as the older turtles have a disagreeable odor and the flesh is tough. This turtle feeds on frogs, fishes, crayfish, young water birds and such other forms of life as it can capture. The snapping turtle is vicious. The oil made from the turtle is said to be valued for medicinal properties.

An investigation is now being conducted by the Department of Conservation to determine the destructiveness of turtles to fish life, especially as pertains to fish hatchery operations.

It is believed, however, that turtles' diet is composed largely of vegetable matter, mollusks, insect larvae, etc.

Turtles are desirable in inland lakes as they are also scavengers and feed on dead fish.

Lightning struck a boat carrying dynamite, on Cockburn Island, in the St. Lawrence, killing thirty, blowing the big $100,000 boat to splinters. We like to read about that.

At St. John's, Newfoundland, windows, roofs, were broken, animals killed by bulletins weighing ten pounds each. We heard of bull stones as big as hen's eggs, but not as big as hens. That interests 1,000,000 of us where Einstein inter-

THE VALUE OF SOUND DESIGN

New Ford engine gives outstanding acceleration, speed and power without sacrificing reliability or economy

The good performance of the Ford car, so apparent on every highway, is due largely to the sound mechanical design of the engine.

It has outstanding acceleration, speed and power, yet that is only part of its value to you. Greater still is the fact that it brings you all these features without sacrificing either reliability or economy.

That is the reason the Ford car has given such satisfactory service to millions of motorists all over the world and has been chosen by so many large companies that keep accurate cost figures. In every detail of construction it has been carefully planned and made for the work it has to do.

The money went in stock gambling. Gambling causes suicides, ruin, poverty, sorrow.

Boothe whisky causes some suicides, many murders.

Leave stock gambling and bootlegging alone.

The kindness of Providence supplies us with things when we need them. The ravens fed Elijah.

After the Napoleonic wars Europe, heavily in debt, faced long poverty. Then came steam power debts were paid, prosperity was great.

Kings and nobles in steel armor enjoyed leading miserable peasants to war. The latter were left dead, the nobles in their armor rode back. Then gunpowder and bullets went through the armor, nobles and kings went home, wars became less frequent.

The automobile needs gigantic supplies of gasoline necessary. The country yields so much oil the oil men don't know what to do with it.

Finally, in flying, clouds and fogs, out of sight of land, make necessary information in mid-ocean.

And the radio supplies it. The flyers arriving from Ireland say that without the guiding radio they could not have made the flight. As we need things we get them.

Mr. Franklin D. Roosevelt says: "Character building begins in the cradle." Parents should train children from their babyhood.

An old English horse trainer, asked "When should I begin training my colt?" and told that the colt was three weeks old, said: "You have lost the three most important weeks."

In the future all mention of this species in laws, correspondence, bulletins, etc., will be as of "brown trout" and the public is being urged to adopt that name.

Children should be trained with kindness and explanation, never with whipping or other brutality, from babyhood.

But don't waste too much time correcting and nagging concerning faults that the child will grow out with time; and not otherwise.

In the future all mention of this species in laws, correspondence, bulletins, etc., will be as of "brown trout" and the public is being urged to adopt that name.

Two kinds of bad news from India.

In the Madras presidency police firing at a crowd of rebels wounded seven.

More serious, from the Imperial point of view, is the disastrous slump in cotton prices on the Bombay markets. Price restrictions have been withdrawn and many failures of cotton merchants are expected.

A few years ago this condition began to change. Stores became business institutions which sold goods on the basis of quality. Stores became attractive places. The floor was kept clean. The loafers who talked politics around the stove were told to move elsewhere. Merchandise was displayed to be looked at and to sell itself.

The store keeper who had fed or clothed families without receiving payment for his merchandise decided to sell for cash.

The number of different articles were standardized into simplified groups. Changes in the methods of distribution from the factories were established.

Now the merchant who simply unlocks his door and lets customers in is not successful. He must join the march of progress. He must do what is necessary to build and maintain business. He must be a merchant, not a store keeper.

The best way to do that is to be a good neighbor.

IDEALS

Ideals are like stars; you will not succeed in touching them with your hands—but like the soaring man on the desert of waters, you choose them as your guides, and following them, you reach your destiny.—Carl Schurz.

Tomorrow is the Fourth of July.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Burrows returned from a short visit in Cheboygan Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jake Husted of West Branch visited T. E. Douglas at Mercy Hospital Friday.

Earl Whipple of Lansing spent a few days with his family in Grayling, returning on Tuesday.

Mrs. Hazel VanDevere of Detroit is a guest at the home of Mrs. Francis McDaniels for a few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Markby are enjoying a visit from the latter's brother, Billy Maxson of Grand Rapids.

Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Chalker and wife and Mrs. Chalker's mother, Mrs. Vallad were in Kalkaska the last of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Scott entertained Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Overmyer and Harry Baker of Roscommon who were here on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Brown enjoyed the latter's sisters, Mrs. Jessie Carpenter and Mrs. Etta Giffen of Traverse City over Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Tony Alas and son John of Detroit have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Bert DeFrain and family for a few days, enroute to Cheboygan and Onaway.

Miss Allyn Brown, six year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Brown, had her tonsils removed at Mercy Hospital Monday. She is getting along nicely.

Miss P. M. Hoyt of Mt. Morris, Mich., sister of Charles Craven of Frederic called on old friends here last Thursday, a guest at the home of Mrs. Frank Serven. The Hoyt family resided in Grayling many years ago and Mrs. Hoyt enjoyed calling on friends and renewing acquaintances.

and also that his phone number is 60. I thanked him.

From there I walked down the street to the Shoppagons Inn. There I met Mr. THOMAS Cassidy. I walked up to him and asked him how long he has been in the hotel business. He told me 11 years. I also asked him how long he has owned the hotel. He told me that he has managed the hotel 11 years and owned it for himself 2 years. He also told me that it contained 54 rooms modernly furnished.

From there I went to the Hans Petersen grocery store. Here I met Mr. Petersen. I asked him how long he has been in the grocery business. He told me since June 1, 1905 and that he has lived in Grayling for the same length of time. I asked him the city position he formerly held and he told me mayor. I thanked him and walked out.

The next place I stopped was in that beautiful drug store of Mac & Gidley where I met Mr. McMahan. With a smile that made me smile as I asked him how long he had managed the Rexall Store. He answered me in a jolly way. 5 years, 3 months, and also that his store was on the corner of Michigan and Cedar streets. I asked him when his new fountain was installed. He told me it was installed May 15, 1930. I thanked him and went out.

Then I started for Chris Olsen's Drug Store. There I asked what the outstanding feature of a Victor Radio is. The answer was "tone." Also that in the ice-cream capacity of his store, he can hold 14-gallon cans of ice cream. The American made candy that took first place in Paris is made here.

From there I went up to the Grayling Dairy to Mr. A. Peterson and asked how long he has lived in Grayling. He laughed and said, "All my life, little girl." When I asked him how long that was he laughed still harder and said I was just trying to find out how old he was. Well, he finally told me he lived here 33 years. He also told me that he has owned the dairy 1½ years. I asked him what his phone number was and he said 91-R.

The next place I stopped was at the Grayling Machine Shop. I asked Mr. Ahman how long he has been in the business and he told me he had been in business 45 years and in the present location 23 years. Also that his phone number is 84-J.

The next place I went was to the Grayling Hardware Store. I met Mrs. F. Barnett who kindly told me they had been in business 2 years and 4 months. They have been in the present location for 2 years. Their featured paint is the Acme Quality. I thanked her and went out.

I next went over to Sorenson Bros. Furniture Store where I asked if they would please tell me how long their store has been established. They told me since 1882. I also asked if they would tell me how long they have owned it. They told me since 1888. The featured mattress there is the National Spring-Within.

Next I went over to the Deckrow Plumbing and Heating Company. There I was told he has been in the business 35 years and has lived in Grayling 16 years. The plumbing fixtures recommended here are Standard and Kohler.

The next place was over to the Grayling Laundry where I met Mr. Peterson and asked him how many he employed. He said, 8 in the winter and 18 in the summer and his phone number is 401-J. He also told me the laundry does a good business.

From there I went to the Grayling Laundry. I started south to the Grayling Greenhouses to see the beautiful flowers and to ask Mr. Borcher and Mr. Neiderer how long they have been partners. They told me they have been partners six weeks. I asked them how many feet of glass there are in the greenhouses. They told me 4,500 feet. Their phone number is 44-W.

From there I went up town to Olaf Sorenson and Son. The great radio store. There I saw Herlur and asked him how long his store had been established. He told me since December 1st, 1909. I also asked him what hours it is open. He said from 8 a.m. until 10 p.m. The candy counter here is in Mary Lee and Morse's. From there I went across the street to the Pure Food Shop. As I went in, met Mr. Schotz with a smile and asked him how long he has had his grocery store. He told me 11½ years. I also asked him how long he has lived in Grayling. He told me 2½ years. The coffee featured here is Golden Moon.

Then I walked down the street to the Gift Shop. There I met Mrs. B. A. Cooley. She told me they had been in Grayling for 10 years and that they have been in business for the same length of time. The Economy Store is located on Cedar street.

From there I came back to the Corwin Auto Sales Garage. There I met Menno with the same smile that he greets everybody with all day long. I asked him how long his father had been in business and he said 8 years. I also told him what tires he uses. He said Goodyear and Biltwell batteries. They also sell the Biltwell batteries.

I thanked him and went out.

From there I went over to the Grayling Mercantile Company and asked how long that company has been in business. They told me 28 years. It has been established the same length of time. Allen A. Hosier is featured here.

From there I went across the street to the Hanson Hardware Company. As I walked in I met Mr. H. McNeven who greeted me with a smile. I asked him how long he had been manager here. He told me in a pleasant way 1 year, 4 months and 13 days. He also told me that the company featured Marn-Senour paint and Thompson's motor boats. I thanked him and walked out.

The next place I went to was Nels' Service Station. I asked how long he has had the station. The owner was 3 years. I was also told that Firestone tires and Exide batteries are sold here.

From there I went back down to Main street. I walked in Hanson's Cafe. I asked how long Mr. Hanson has had the cafe in Grayling. I was told that he has had this cafe 7 years and that it is open 24 hours. Arctic ice cream is featured by the cafe.

From the cafe I went back across the river to my mother's store, the South Side Grocery. I asked her how long she has lived in Grayling. She told me 14 years and 9 months and 13 days. She also told me that she has owned the store for 4 years. The phone number is 119.

I rested awhile and started on my way to J. F. Smith's Service Station. As I walked over to the counter where he was standing, he asked me if there was anything he could do for me. I told him I had some questions to ask him. First, how long he has had the station. He told me 6 years.

Second: what hours his station is open. He answered me, from 6 a.m. to 10 p.m. He told me that the lowest price oil per quart sold at his station is Polarine which sells at 25c per quart.

Then I went back down to Main street to the Sweet Shop. There I met Mrs. Hewitt. I asked him how long he has been in business. He told me 6 years and that he has owned the Sweet Shop for the same length of time. I asked him what hours it is open. He told me it is open from 10 a.m. until 10 p.m. I thanked him and went out.

From there I went up the street to John Cowell's home. I knocked at the door and Mr. Cowell himself came to the door. I asked him when he first came to Grayling. He told me Sept. 1878. He told me that he had been specializing in marbleizing for 8 years—and that concrete products can be marbleized.

On my way home I stopped at Waldemar Jensen's workshop. I asked him how long he has lived in Grayling. He told me 36 years. His phone number is 41-R. I also asked him when he did the art work in the dining room of the Shoppagons Inn. He told me February 1st, 1930.

As I conclude my story, I hope I have found out as near as possible Who's Who in Grayling.

THE SPACE FILLER

A. E. Martin

CONVALESCENT

The writer has just got settled down to work again after several weeks absence down in the "old home town" and in Columbus, Ohio, convalescing from a complication of "Spring fever" and "no-write-us". Perhaps YOU missed neither The Space Filler nor his column, but it's nice to know that someone remembers, and you can imagine how pleased I was on getting back to Grayling, when I stepped off the early morning train and went into Hanson's restaurant to get a bite, to be greeted by the village baker (who was refreshing himself with some "Dawn Donuts" and coffee) with: "Let's see, your face looks familiar—you're from Pontiac, ain't you?" I assured him I was a long way from Pontiac—but then perhaps he was not referring to the State asylum at all.

EIGHTY YEARS YOUNG

The Space Filler wishes to extend thanks to H. C. McKinley, of Grayling, an old-time newspaper man and printer, who kindly consented to "sub" for him while he was on his vacation. Mr. McKinley is eighty, looks under sixty, and shows more vitality and "pep" than many men of fifty years and less.

CUSSED THE DAMS

Another eighty-year-old "youngster" in the person of Geo. H. Gardner of Charlotte, Mich., was met in the bus station in Lansing while I was waiting for a bus to Saginaw. Mr. Gardner is a veteran of the Civil War and his ambition is to be sole surviving member of the A. S. Williams Post, G.A.R., and this ambition seems to be in a fair way of being realized, as there are less than a dozen living members now. He carries a cane but holds himself erect and moves with much of the sprightliness of former years. Mr. Gardner spoke of visits to this locality—Grayling and Roscommon—in the lumbering days, hunting and fishing, and boat trips down the AuSable, and in no gentle words cussed the dams that now block the river, and damned the "cusses" who were responsible for their erection—for he said in early days you could float unhampered from Grayling to Oscoda at the river's mouth.

MAKE NO MISTAKE

The editor mentioned last week that he had contracted for a column of Will Rogers' stuff to appear weekly in the Avalanche—beginning this week. Now lest the reader should get this column and Mr. Rogers' column mixed, we call attention to the fact that the heads at the top of each column are different—as are also the heads behind the columns. You all knew Will Rogers' cheetah from the West and went on the rampage stage with his dry-joke and those clever roping tricks, got onto the movie screen and into the talkies, and is broadcast regularly over the radio. The writer of this column was never farther West than Joliet, Illinois—the seat of the State penitentiary; couldn't, with a forty-foot lariat, rope a gatepost standing still; wouldn't know a movie screen from a state highway gravel screen, and could hardly tell a radio broadcasting station from a freight station on the D. & M. R. R.—so if you do make a mistake it will be immaterial to him, but he wouldn't like to have Will feel "peevish."

"FORE"

While in Columbus the writer made his first complete trip around an 18-hole golf course—one of the seven supported in Ohio's capital—in company with an Irishman from London, England, who has been a resident of Columbus for some years, and another friend. I started out as spectator, but was importuned to try a few shots and see what I could do. This was but the second time I had had a golf club in my hands and I thought I was going fine, when the English young fellow, whom I had spied up and said that if I would pay a little more attention to my posture, and to the manner in which I grasped the club, with a little more practice, I would be able to slice a big a cut down the river to this chunk of turf from the green at the village one day last week and parked the wagers of a nickel a hole against sooner than expected. The ability to make them in par or eagle was without the law observed that less. He is an expert and has a drive like Babe Ruth, and usually makes the eighteen holes in considerably less strokes than par, but this seemed to be his though slightly mixed—stating that "on day," and while his drives were long they often went out in the rough and he lost several balls. Here he learned of the system by which the golfer hits the ball into a large car, and wish-caddies often stimulate the golf ball into to come to town, had taken the trade. While apparently helping the old Ford out of the garage without player in searching for the ball, they noticing that the license plates were missing, they said, "The Ford was pressed into the ground with them," and when the occupants were interrogated, they became excited and got into custody and the young ball and sell them at big discounts.

While on the subject the following day in the car of a friend, after a game off, a kind motherly old lady, who had been earnestly watching the existence of Ohio's metropolis, and their fruitless search for her son, the son lights, traffic officers and mounted police, they will probably get some "kick" out of the return wire, and came up the next thirty or forty minute search for the missing spheres. Just as they concluded they would have to catch their ball again. After vacation is over and they return to the humdrum existence of the time they "drove a ball roll under her car and there in the little village up in the North Woods of Michigan.

It would be cheating if I told you where they are? She had seen the motor vehicle without license plates, and they had stopped, within reach but woods of Michigan.

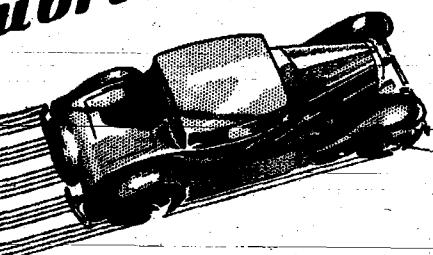

Many states prohibited driving in excess of 8 or 10 miles per hour in "built-up" communities. Twenty miles per hour was once considered highly dangerous. Improvements in the automobile and advances in traffic control have changed all that. Likewise the constant improvements wrought by Shell in motor lubrication have made higher speeds safe for the automobile engine. That's the important thing about Shell Motor Oil. It is always ahead of requirements... ready now for next year's car. Low temperature refining preserves all of the rich lubricating elements of Nature's best-balanced crude. No emergency ever finds Shell Motor Oil lacking in protective qualities. No wonder so many motorists are turning to Shell. STOP AT THE SIGN OF THE SHELL . . . MILLIONS DO

A SNAKE STORY

A black cat crossing your path is said to be a sign of bad luck—and to be a sign of bad luck not long ago, when somewhere in her meanderings, Dick's black cat crossed its path. It yawned as it passed through the business place of her owner, proudly trailing the Indian snake from her mouth. The cat vouches for the truth of the story, for he measured it, and by the "rule of thumb" it measured nearly seventy centimeters from the end of its nose to the tip of its tail. The cat he means—he didn't seem to mean "snake."

Wendell Hall Host Of the Shell Program Has Started Many Budding Artists On Road To Fame

Via the Microphone

In addition to having achieved international fame and success as a radio artist of rare talent and ability, Wendell Hall, genial host of the Shell program, is hailed as the discoverer of many of the most popular entertainers on the air today. These include such "finds" as Carson J. Robinson, Harriet Lee, Charles Lomax, Muriel La France, Marjorie Lambkin, and other stars of the air who owe their success in a big way to Wendell Hall's vision and foresight.

He has developed uncanny ability to sense and develop the latent talent inherent in many of the budding artists with whom he comes in contact.

So, Wendell Hall, has played and continues to play the dual role of the versatile, internationally acclaimed radio "entertainer" and "finder" of talent in others who would emulate him in their ambition to become favored radio entertainers. And many including those mentioned above have achieved stardom, thanks to Wen.

On the Shell program to be broadcast on Monday, July 7th, at 8:30 P. M. Central Standard Time, Wendell Hall will sing the sentimental ballad "Until We Meet Again Sweetheart," a type of song exceptionally suited to the well-modulated tones qualities of his voice, and "Old Plantation Melody" in the singing of which he "croons" right into the hearts of his unseen audience.

The Shell Orchestra under the direction of Adolph Dumont, conductor, the Chicagoans Quartet and Chauncey Parsons, tenor, will be featured in a number of selections from famous operas and musical shows.

The program is as follows:

"Gumshucker's March"—orchestra, Grainger.

"Estrellita"—orchestra & tenor, Ponce.

"The Moon Is Low"—orchestra & Quartet, Freed & Brown.

"Until We Meet Again Sweetheart"—Hall, Link.

"Singin' In The Rain"—Orchestra & Tenor, Freed & Brown.

"Old Plantation Melody"—Hall, Hall.
